SENATE WASHING ON, May 12, 1868. The President pro temp re took the chair at neon, and Mr. DRAKE (Beth., Mo.) at once moved an adjournment; but several Senators objected, and Mr. YATES (Rep., fil.) moved that when the Senate adjourn is be to meet at notin on Friday. Mr. ANTHONY (Rep., R. I.) did not would the accession pushed over into September, and remarked that every day the Senate sits now shortens the session. Mr. SHERMAN (Rep., Ohio) remarked that next week the Senate would probably have marked that next week the Senate would probably have to adjourn to allow the usual changes in the Senate chamber for the Summer, and as there was important business to be discussed before that time he hoped that Senators would transact all the business possible this week, before taking the vote on Saturday.

Mr. HENDRICKS (Dem., Ind.) concurred in the remourks of the last two speakers.

Mr. DRAKE thoughs it perfectly evident that no business could be done in the Senate to-day, and he preferred that business be postponed until it could be done propurly.

that business be postponed until it could be none properly.

A Senator—What's the matter?

Mr. DEAKE—deathenen ask me what is the matter?

If there is no consciousness on the part of Senators of the condition of things in the Senate this day that should lead them to feel that the mind is not exactly in the balance that it ought to be for business, I cannot impart that consciousness is them. But, sir, when this nation is moved to its utmost extremity by the probable vete of this day, I would like to know whether the Senate is composed of men so utterly given over to cool and calm philosophy that they are not to be made partners of the feeling that moves the nation to its furthest extremity. If they are so all that I have to say is that I am left in the condition of great cuvy at their superior composare and philosophy.

Mr. DRAKE-Ves, Sir, it will. We will cool it all

Mr. YATES thought that the suspense prevailing days to a thorough examination of the question now sefore them.

Mr. DAVIS (Dent., Ky.) was sorry to hear that Senators did not feel themselves competent to proceed with the ardinary business of the Senate. If that was the case before the final judgment is announced, they might be much perturbed after that event. Even in the midst of storaes and carthquakes the business of official as well as private life must proceed, and their ordinary business should go on without regard to present disappointment, or hopes and fears, as a still greater perturbation might be produced on some of them on next Saturday. They had better proceed with as much composure as possible to their ordinary business. to their ordinary business.

Mr. CAMPEON (Rep., Penn.) moved to adjourn, pre-facing the motion by a disavowal of any excitement on the part.

At the suggestion of Mr. HARLAN (Rep., Iewa) Messrs.
Cameron and Yates withdrew to allow him to call up the

Mr. HARLAN urged the importance of passing the bill

Mr. HARLAN renewed his metion to take up the bill relative to the charter of Washington, which prevailed, and the House amendments were read.

Mr. CONNESS (Bop., Cal.) condemned the amendment allowing persons to vote after only 15 days residence in the Ward, as provocative of fraudulent voting.

Mesers Johnson (Dem., Md.), Hendricks (Dem., Ind.), and Sekalew (Dem., Penn.) supported the amendment, and M. wars. Harlan (Rep., Iowa), Summer (Rop., Mass.), Fessended, and Patterson (Rep., N. H.), opposed it, and after debate, it was withdrawn by Mr. Conness.

Mr. BUCKALEW renewed the amendment, and it was rejected—15 to 51.

Mr. SCHENCK (Rep., Ohio), from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to reduce into one act, and to amend the laws relating to Internal taxes. Mr. Belenck gave notice that he would bring the bill back to the House within perhaps a week from this time, if there should be no recess. Mr. ELIOT (Rep., Mass.) objected to its consideration

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Mr. PRICE (Rep., lows) from the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, reported a joint resolution to construe the provisions in the Pacific Railroad acts regarding the use of American Iron so as to declare that American from only shall be used for all rails, chairs, fish-bars, boits and spikes in the laying and repairing of the road. The bill was passed.

Mr. PRICE reported back a substitute for the joint resolution introduced some time ago by Mr. Washburn (Wis.) to regulate the tariff for freight and passengers on the Union and Central Pacific Railroads and their branches. The substitute provides for a Board of Commissioners, to consist of the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Interior, and the Attorney-General of the United States, to establish annually a tariff of prices for freight and passengers, provided that it shall not take effect until there shall be a continuous line of railroad completed and in ranning order from Omaha to Sacramento.

Mr. UPSON (Rep., Mich.) suggested that the proviso seemed rather calculated to retard than to accelerate the completion of the road, and therefore that the proviso should be expanged.

Mr. Ul'SON (Rep., Mich.) suggested that the proviso seemed rather calculated to retard than to accelerate the completion of the road, and therefore that the proviso should be exputiged.

Mr. PRICE gave as a reason for the proviso the fact that by the 18th section of the original bill the supervisory power of Congress over the subject only applied where the roads ahould be finished.

Mr. JOHNSON (Dem., Cal.) asked Mr. Price to accept an amendment to the substitute by adding the following: "and provided further, that the tariff of prices so fixed shall not exceed eight cents per mile per tun for freight, and six cents per mile for passengers."

Mr. PRICE could not admit the amendment.

Mr. WASHIUTENE (Rep., Ind.) asked Mr. Price when the joint resolution would probably take effect.

Mr. PRICE replied that, judging the future by the past, it would take effect in about two years.

Mr. VAN WYCK (Rep., N. Y.), having had ten minutes allowed to the Pacific Railroad Companies, and commented upon the fact that the advantages were being gradually succeptioned, until at the last report there were but is shareholders in the Central Pacific Railroad Company. He protected against the injustice of letting these companies impose such high tariffs on freight and passengers.

Mr. BAILEY (Rep., N. Y.), having 15 minutes allowed him, spoke of the substitute as evasive and unsubstantial.

Mr. JOHNSON and that people on the California end of the road are required to pay ten cents a mile for passengers, and 15 cents per tun per mile for freight, in gold.

Mr. CLARKE (Rep., Kansas) made a like complaint on behalf of the average rates charged on the railroads between the Massisspip River and Atlantic Ocean, in latitudes north of St. Lodis.

Mr. FARNSWORTH (Rep., 11) moved that the joint resolution be recommitted, with instructions to report a bill regulating the faire of freight and fares on the mission two men to be selected for their extraord matters.

Mr. DONN'SLLAY (Rep., Minn.) spoke 16 minuten in general defense of the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Mr. HIGBY (Rep., Cal.) proposed that the Pacific Railroad Committee or some other Committee he instrincted to make a thorough investigation and accertain what freights and passengers can be carried for and that Compress fix the limits of prices.

He had acquired some knowledge on the suelor; at this session. The heads of departments were parchasable if mombers of Congress were, and should know better than the Representatives of the people, what the wants of the people were.

Mr. ELIOT asked, but the goutleman made no reply.

Mr. PILE (Rep., Mo.) replied to the general reflections upon railroad corporations, and remarked that many members we've present whose districts would now be trackless widernesses if it had not been for railroads.

Mr. CLARKE (Rep., Kansas) remarked that merchants in Topek, used ox teams for the transportation of their treight from Leavenworth, as being cheaper than the railroad rates charged between those points.

Mr. INGERSOLL (Rep., III.) argued at length in favor of the policy of a tariff, and of protecting the people against the exactions of railroad companies.

Mr. WASHBURNE (Rep., III.) sand that the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. Washburn) had prepared a speech on this subject, but was too ill to attend the session of the House to-day. He asked and obtained leave for that gentleman to print his speech in The Olobe.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE (Rep., III.) and that the Pacific Railroad six per cent bonds, payable with interest and ompany amount to 10 per cent.

Mr. PRICE closed the debate in an argument in support of the joint resolutions.

The House proceeded to vote on the various propositions. The first question was on Mr. Farasworth's proposion to recommit, with instructions to report a bill regulating the rates of tariff and fare.

Mr. WASHBURNE (III.) suggested that the Committee would not have another chance of reporting this session.

would not have another chance of reporting this session.

Mr. FARNSWORTH asked unanimous consent to add to his motion that the Committee should have leave to report at any time.

Mr. CHANLER (Dem., N. Y.) objected.

The motion to recommit was rejected—Yes, 62; Nays, 68.

Mr. BENJAMIN (Rep., Mo.) moved to table the whole subject; rejected, 36 to 62. The question recurred on the amendment of Mr. Washburn of Indiana to strike out of the joint resolution the proviso that the tariff shall not take effect until there shall be a continuous line of railread completed and running from Omiaha to Sacramento.

The amendment was adopted; Yeas, 76; Nays, 47.

The question recurred on the amendment offered by Mr. Clarke of Kansas, that the tariff shall not exceed double the average rates charged on the different lines of railroads between the Mississippi River and the Atlantic Ocean, and the joint resolution, as amended, was passed by 76 to 37.

OTHER SUBJECTS.

Mr. FLANDERS (Rep., Wash. Ter.) offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Territories to inquire into the matter of a penitentiary in Washington Territory.

Adopted.

Mr. CHANLER asked leave to offer a resolution requesting the President of the United States to inform the House of all the facts relating to the treatment of certain American citizens, reported to have been unjustly arrested, imprisoned, and flooged while in prison by the authority of an officer of the Government of Mexico.

Messis, BUTLER (Rep., Mass.) and HARDING (Rep., Ill.) objected.

Mr. LAFLIN (Rep., N. V.) reported resolutions for printing 500 copies of the communication from the Secretary of the Navy relative to claims for prize money, and 5,000 extra copies (100 for the use of the Committee on Ways and Means) of the bill to reduce into one act and to Ways and Means) of the bill to reduce into one act and to amend the laws relating to internal taxes. Adopted.

The House, at 3:15, went into the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Woodbridge in the chair, and was addressed by Mr. BROOMALL (Rep. Penn.) in opposition to the bill, introduced some weeks ago by its colleague (Woodward) to test the constitutionality of the acts of Congress.

Mr. WOODWARD (Dem., Penn.) remarked that although he was prepared now to reply to his colleague, he held that it would be indecorous to his colleague to do so without due preparation, therefore he proposed to reply to him when he could next get the floor in Committee of the Whole.

of the Whole.

Mr. MUNGEN (Dem., Ohio) referring to a resolution proposed to be offered by him yesterday, in reference to the treatment of Rebel prisoners, said that he could prove by proper testimony that a proposition had been made by officers of the Confederate Government to officers of this Government, when Union soldiers were dying at Andersonville, Millen, and Florence, and other Southern prisons, to pay three times the appraised value of medicines for them, the same to be put under the charge of England surgeons. burge of Pederal surgeons. The Committee rose, and the House 2144 adjourned.

The trot yesterday, consisting of a Sweepprovement in the order and regulation of the track is soon forthcoming. There were four horses brought out for this race—Glencoe, late Black Croos, driven by Roden; Jessie, a sorrs! mare, driven by Isaac Pawling; Pepper's Ghost, driven by D'Ogle; and Stag, driven by Haslett. The other subscriber. Rockey, was withdrawn. The betting previous to the first heat was in favor of Glencoe, who brought $20 in the peols, Jessie, $10, and the field, $12. There is one point connected with trotting-matches at this track which certainly does not tend to make the spot popular. When such decisions are given by the judges as was given yesterday in respect to the third heat, it is sufficient to keep all square men from ever betting on the track again. The points of the heat will be given in their place, and we shall leave the reader to discuss the error.

keep all square men from ever betting on the track again. The points of the heat will be given in their place, and we shall leave the reader to discuss the error.

In the first heat Pepper's Ghost had the pole, Jessie second, Glencee third, and Stag on the outside. On getting the word Stag had a little the best of it, Pepper's Ghost second, Jessie third, and Glencee fourth, but on rounding the quarter pole the positions were changed, and Jessie had the lead, being five lengths ahead of Glencee (who broke in the turn), and Stag, who was last. On passing thehaif-nile Pepper's Ghost had gained a length on Jessie, and Stag was ahead of Glencee, but as they were both running alternately it was a toss up between them for third place. On coming up to the home stretch the Ghost had gained considerably but the pace was too much for the old horse, and he went up. Jessie winning the heat in 2:45, five lengths ahead of Pepper's Ghost, who beat the celebrated runner Glencee by two lengths. Stag distanced.

In the second heat $20 to $10 was bet freely on Jessie, who verified the opinion of her backers by taking the lead and keeping it throughout the race, winning the heat in 2:45 ptwo or three lengths. The whole of the latter part of the heat Glencee was up and down, and Perper's Ghost was so badly knocked up that his owner withdrew him.

In the third heat, on getting the word, Jessie was a little ahead, and on coming to the turn Glencoe broke badly, giving Jessie a lead of five lengths, which she had

In the third heat, on getting the word, Jessie was a little shead, and on coming to the turn Gleucoe broke badly, giving Jessie a lead of five lengths, which she had on passing the quarter pole. On coming down the back stretch the horse gained on her a little, and on passing the nalf-mile was only a length, but there the pace told, and Glencoe again went up, but as he ran he did not lose much ground. On coming into the backstretch Jessie still had a good lead, and when about halfway between the three-quarter pole and the jadge's stand, Roden seeing he had no chance of winning in a trot gave the horse the whip, and passing Jessie on a most palpable run, came by the post a length ahead of Jessie. To the astonishment of everybody present the judges gave a dead heat. There was a good deal of grumbling, but as a judge's flat is decisive, the matter soon dropped.

The fourth heat does not require much comment, Jessie took the lead and won straight through, trotting as she had done throughout the race in a fair and square

The dotermination of New York not to let victory slip from them, played too closely to admit of Brooklyn seering, and their yielding for a binnic at this stage of the game led to the belief that New York must win, it not appearing manifest that no count awaited them; but the "uncertainty of things uncertain" was here verified, and New-York, notwithstanding an opportunity offered, found three men out without an intermediate one getting in. A tenth imning had now to be played to decide the battle. Brooklyn went in defiantly, secred four runs, and seemingly placed the result beyond dispute. Not yet, however, or New York took matters as determinedly as their o'pponents, and amid deafening shouts carried over the homepiate the four men necessary for a tie, despite the exertions of Brooklyn to the contrary. Amid mu' at jargon and tumult, for everybody was now on the theory of executement, the eleventh inning was commenced. The fact of New-York making such play with cirl, men against nine, composed of such names as Brooklyn presented, led to a strong desire on the part of the people present to have them win. Their prayers were 62 no avail, though, for, to the astonishment of none, but to the dismay of nil, Brooklyn took the credit of the highest total at the finishing of the eleventh inning.
